Message from our Jim...

Sunday's Message
September 13, 2020

Aliens & Strangers: "Building a Temple of Praise"
Reading: 1 Peter 2:4-10

Good morning, church! How I wish we could all be together this morning for worship, but how thankful I am that technology affords us the opportunity to gather "virtually" to partake of the Communion which binds us together and to drink from God's Word as one. What's more, the Spirit of God enjoins us in ways we cannot imagine and for that I am most thankful.

After months of pursuit, it looks like the Covid-19 bug has finally caught up with us and, despite our elusive efforts, my family and I have been quarantined this week after testing positive. We are thankful that our symptoms seem mild and, Lord willing, we will be able to be back out, and about next week. We're encouraging everyone to remain vigilant in your efforts to keep from spreading this nasty bug, taking necessary precautions and by wearing a mask. As our church and community continues to deal with the virus, look for ways to serve and help.

As always, Sunday's message will be broadcast "live" on Facebook at 8:30am and posted on our church website (www.wscoc.net) about the same time for you to watch with your family. Lord willing, we will be able to be back together for Wednesday Bible class on the 16th.

God bless,
Jim
